Clarion students...

Enjoying the infrequent good weather is a great way to spend the day.

Basking in the Clarion sunshine, catching a few relaxing minutes is something students can take advantage of on campus.

Whether it's between class, after class, or just to get out of your apartment or dorm for a while, seize the day and spend it outdoors.

Skip Nygu

Mike Delvallance

You can also find students at Clarion just goofing around, relieving a little frustration or hanging out with friends. Or even climbing trees... Whatever it is that you enjoy doing outdoors do it and take advantage of of the day.

ALF festivities draw friends

Clarion University of Pennsylvania celebrates homecoming each year as the final day of the Autumn Leaf Festival. The streets of Clarion become filled with alumni, students, friends, family, faculty and Clarion residents. Pictured to the right, from left to right, are alumni: Wayne Norris, Earl Petrucci, and Nick Rebick. These alumni are members of Alpha Gamma Phi fraternity and come back to Clarion each year to celebrate Clarion's homecoming. ## the University's Marching

The Golden Eagle Marching Band and the Clarion University Football team support one another throughout each and every game. As the football players strive towards the goal, the band enthusiastically cheers them through each play. The band gets the crowd involved and provides half time entertainment for everyone. Whether rain, shine, hot, or cold, Clarion seizes the day on the field and in the stands.

Clarion weather...

rain or shine you will always see

Rain is a typical occurrence at Clarion University. Students, faculty, visitors, alumni, and friends walked home from the ALF parade this year with umbrellas overhead. In spite of bad weather, it didn't ruin the weeks festivities and fun.

The parade continued, although a few floats, people, cameras, chairs, and couches got drenched.

Many students, faculty members, alumni, parents and friends that turned out to support the Clarion athletic teams. Clarion University's talented Women's Swimming and Diving teams, under the direction of coach Bill Miller, had quite an impressive season. Senior wrestler Justin Kuzemka, pictured below, along with the entire wrestling team, also had a remarkable season.

Recycling canisters were added to each of Clarion University's buildings this year. They are in every campus building in many locations to be filled daily. This is part of an effort to help keep Clarion's campus environmentally conscious. Recycling bins are part of the bigger concern more and more people have toward saving the earth. It is easy to find one of these bins to throw out your unwanted bottles, cans and plastics. Also apartments, dorms and residents of the Clarion area have been given canisters and one day each month recyclable materials will be picked up, free of charge.

When Clarion Parties . . .

The anticipation seems to build for weeks. Then suddenly, overnight, it appears. Every year, in October, approximately 100,000 people come to Clarion to celebrate the season of autumn, homecoming, and alumni weekend at Clarion's annual Autumn Leaf Festival.

Throughout the week, there is a carnival with games and rides for the entire family. Town square becomes packed with all type of food stands where you can find everything from candy apples and cotton candy to Chinese food and Philly style cheese steaks. Main Street is lined with vendors selling arts and crafts, jewelry, and various Autumn Leaf memorabilia.

The celebration is brought to a peak with a huge Saturday afternoon parade followed by the homecoming football game, where the homecoming queen and king are crowned.

When it finally comes to an end, there are plenty of memories and stories left to last until next year's festival.

Who says residence hall anyway? I don't know about you, but I have always and always will call it a 'dorm', (Downright Original Rooms of Madness). I guess what you call them isn't important, it's what happens within them that deserves to be noted. In these seven ordinary buildings is where most of your questions are formed and later answered. It's where friendships blissfully begin and tragically end. It's where memories are made. No amount of time spent in class or reading a book can equal what you learn between the walls of a dorm.

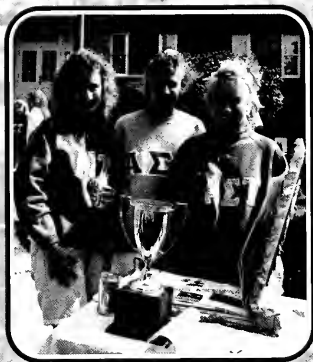

Rumor has it that they're getting better. Starting in Fall of 1992, Clarion University will have an experimental 24-hour visitation dorm at Nair Hall where you can have anyone you want visit whenever they want to, and in Wilkinson we'll be able to get cable in the rooms. I guess they're trying to make up for being so far away from they new Gemmell Student Complex!

C & C Music Factory made Marion University students "Go Hmmm" the Sunday in October when they performed to a packed audience in the Tipton Gym. A partnership between Robert Cliviles and David Cole produced remix hits for Natalie Cole, New Kids on the Block, and Grace Jones. They combined with newcomers Freedom Williams, Zelma Davis, Deborah Cooper, and special guest Martha Wash to form the successful pop rap group, C & C Music Factory. Their debut album, "Gonna Make You Sweat" (everybody dance now) has already spawned the number one

The adult returning to college, or going to college for the first time, has made a decision that will affect both their present and future life. They find that changes have to be made in their family and social lives.

Time once spent with friends and family must now be spent studying. Adults balance family responsibilities with academic ones. Sick children, family crises, and unsupportive family and friends, are all obstacles on their path to an education.

They study hard and still maintain their family responsibilities. They know the time they are taking to get an education will be tough, yet, on graduation day, they will receive their reward for all their sacrifices and hard work.

You've had a rough couple of days. The midterm you studied for until you were blue in the face is finally over. And you just handed in that eight page paper that took you over two weeks of library time to write. Your mind and body deserve a rest. Flopping down on your bed, you turn on the stereo ...instant relaxation.

Welcome to the Power of Music!

No matter who you are, where you are or what you're doing you are not above or beyond the effects of melody and harmony. From Garth Brooks to Def Leopard to Public Enemy, there is something in music that touches us. It prompts us to grow, learn and change.

The strength and endurance in music comes from the fact that barriers that stop us from reaching our full potential don't exist in musical composition. There is no fear in music. It does not fear change or adversity. It has no enemies and does not wish to make any. Music exists only to help and to heal. We, as people, should be so lucky.

Credit is an easy come, easy go situation with today's students.

You pick up your mail to find a student application for credit card. You read about how you really should have credit card while you are in college so you can establish credit record for when you graduate. Some companies offer you a bonus for using their credit card. So you apply for and receive this wonderful piece of plastic.

You go to buy books at the book store. The clerk asks, "Cash or charge?" You think how you could use the cash in your pocket for other things, so you say, "Charge" and hand her the plastic card. When you leave the store and return to your room, you open the bag and find you not only purchased books and supplies, but a T-shirt, sweatshirt, shorts and other university clothing. The total is over $400. You rationalize it's okay because you have a long time to pay for them, so why worry?

Friends decide to go out on the town for the night and you don't have any cash. Out comes that little plastic card, you put it into a machine and out comes the money. Isn't it great having that little piece of security in your pocket?

Then one day, you receive your statement in the mail. You couldn't have spent that much money. You would never spend that much, it will take up all your pocket

Gimme some credit!

For the second year in a row the Sequelle had a "Picture Yourself" activity where anyone that wanted to, could have their picture taken by a professional photographer and get the chance to be in the yearbook. It's a great opportunity for us to get good pictures of YOU and a great way to try to insure that everyone has an equal opportunity to be in the yearbook.

This year we had a lot of fun, trying to explain to people what we were doing and getting them over their camera shyness. If you were a part of this madness I'd like to take this space in the yearbook to thank you for giving us your time and allowing us to immortalize you to some extent. Each year more handicapped people are returning to colleges and universities to finish or get a degree. They realize that if they want to do something besides sit at home, they need to get that piece of paper which says their body is handicapped, but their mind is working.

Because of the increase of handicapped students at CUP, you will see some new renovations on campus. In order for CUP to obtain funding from Federal and state funding boards, they must meet certain requirements concerning handicapped accessibility on campus

The Chicken Farmers have helped me come to terms with my beastial tendencies.

I first became aware of The Robot Chicken Farmers when I awoke to the band performing in my living room. I then inquired as to the members of the band and discovered, to my joy, that I was also a member of this organization. We began to practice, frantically attempting to imitate, as we saw it, the various lords of disco such as 'Devo', 'Village People', and many others. This was not the only inspiration that fueled us; there were many strange ideas in this domicile, and we were about to utilize them. Fun is, and will always be, a very important aspect of the group and to catch the 'Robot Chicken Farmers' is sheer joy and amazement.

With our love of potatoes and merriment making, our friends and fans followed us through a plethora of rhythmic distortion and ridiculous vocal flatuations. The 'Farmers' have played very few concerts but show promise in the long run of being very successful.

A Pilgrimage Home . . .

Last summer I made a pilgrimage to the Holy Land, and upon my return , I embarked to re-experience the four thousand year history of my people. I was pleasantly surprised to see the plethora of books that Carlson Library had available, and I wasted no time in beginning my search.

I learned that in 70 A.D. the Temple of Jerusalem was destroyed and the Jews were sent into exile. Those exiled Jews are the descendants of the Jewish Communities that now exist throughout the world.

Through the years, the Jews were usually a persecuted minority and it was the land of Israel which remained for them a symbol of their nationhood and their faith. Shortly after the Holocaust, Israel was declared statehood and Jews throughout the world emigrated to her. Jews from Seventy-four nations all came to the soil of Israel where they were granted a human dignity and freedom that most of them, nor their ancestors had ever known.

Every day the State of Israel is fighting for its existence against aggressive neighbors whose only goal is her destruction. I learned that it is my duty, as a Jew, to assist Israel in whatever way I can to insure its future existence.

This past year, the Clarion International Association sponsored several "International Nights." These included African, European, Latin American/Caribbean, East, and South Asian Nights.

The gatherings were open to the entire university and surrounding communities. People got a chance to sample foods from countries such as France, Finland, Hungary and, Greece.

Activities during these evenings included traditional

Irish dances, a New Zealand war dance, Greek dances, video presentations on Australia and Zaire, as well as slide

Matthew King, from Bellefonte Pennsylvania, has been a painter for many years. He graduated from Clarion University in May 1992 with a Bachelor of Fine Art degree concentrating in painting.

His best works are mainly non-objective paintings with hard lines and brilliant colors. Dealing mostly with colors, composition, and shapes, his influences include such painters as Duchamp, Miro and Picasso. Matt also likes to add military themes into the paintings. Some are hard to spot, which brings a challenge to the viewer.

King likes to paint at night when nobody is around to disturb his focus on the work. He feels his best piece is the painting entitled "1914."

Matt had his Senior Art Exhibition opening on April 4, 1992 at the Sanford Art Gallery.

Night of the Clarion got into the Halloween spirit early this year with a production of "Night of the Zombies" by Tim Kelly. Performed from October 8 - 12, in the Marwick Boyd Little Theatre, it was the opening production of the Clarion University Theatre for the 1991-1992 school year. "Zombies" was directed by Dr. Adam Weiss. The lead role of Samedi, was played by J. Michael Powell, while John Theim and Laura Navas played Adam and Vivian.

The play was a composite of 1940's Zombie movies and was written as a combination comedy/thriller. It took place in the Okeefenokee Swamp when television personalities Adam and Vivian had an unfortunate accident near Samedi's house. They were taken to Samedi's house by the local marshal. There they discover that former carnival hypnotist, Samedi, turned intruders, petty criminals, and immigrants into Zombies - the walking dead. He used the Zombies to work as productive employees in an attempt to dominate tourist air travel.

After 31 years of teaching and educating at Clarion University, the longest of all the 1992 retirees, Dr. Stanley F. Michalski retired as faculty member and Conductor of Bands. Dr. Michalski was a well-known figure at Clarion University with the marching and symphonic bands being the symbol of his accomplishments. Instructing not only the bands, Dr. Michalski taught music education classes as well as serving as an adjudicator, clinician, and guest conductor for bands across the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Europe.

The famous "Stars and Stripes Forever" was always used to conclude Dr. Michalski's band programs at Clarion. At the annual President's Concert and Dr. Michalski's retirement concert, Old Glory dropped and hung as a backdrop while the band played "Stars and Stripes Forever" (pictured above). Doc was always grateful for the support of his wife and family and credited them for his success. Doc's grandchildren, Carson and Luke, are a big part of his life and were guest conductors of the symphonic band. Doc, our hats are off to you. Remember, Doc, "It's good for your smile!"

The 1992 Sequelle is dedicated in honor of Dr. Stanley F. Michalski for all his hard work, time, and dedication to music education and the students at Clarion University. On behalf of Clarion University- Thanks, Doc!

"Our Town," a Pulitzer Prize play written by Thornton Wilder, was performed at the Marwick-Boyd Little Theatre from November 19 - 23, 1991. The play tells the story of life, death, and the hereafter as experienced by the people of Grover's Corner N.H. from 1901 to 1913. It condensed an entire lifetime of experiences into a single play which has been popular ever since the 1938 production.

The play centers on lead characters George Gibbs, Emily Webb, and their families. George Gibbs was played by Scott Burden and Emily Webb was played by Christine Arnold. The play was narrated by Brian Bazala and directed by Dr. Mary Hardwick.

A unique aspect of this play was the lack of props and scenery. Kitchen chairs were the only props used. The actors and actresses were presented with the challenge of pantomime and imagination along with the traditional acting.

"The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas" was performed February 19 through the 22nd in the Marwick-Boyd auditorium. The true story which contained adult situations and language was based on the book by Larry King and Peter Masterson with the music and lyrics by Carol Hall. It was directed by Marilouise Michel, assistant professor of speech communication and theatre at Clarion University. Marilouise commented, "This is a very tastefully done play. It is all done in the name of fun and there is nothing wrong with going to the theatre just for fun."

Senior Fine Arts major, Brian Jeffrey (alias the Bird Man), from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, graduated in December 1991 with a concentration in painting. His subject matter often dealt with very violent, morbid imagery such as skeletons which are one of his recurring images. His interests also center around self-portrait sculptures.

Brian also owns a hot pink motorcycle which he painted himself. Not only did he paint it, but he also painted a cartoonish character on the fuel tank. This Bird man is not one who likes to blend into a crowd.

Over 70 students from Clarion University performed in the 1991 dance concert, "We Dance," on December 6th and 7th in the Marwick-Boyd Little Theatre. "There were 16 dances in "We Dance," ranging from solo, duet, and trio to groups," said Marilouise Michel, assistant professor of speech communication and theatre and director of the concert.

The choreography for the majority of the performance was developed by Michel. Anne Edwards of Clarion designed costumes for use in the production.

Some highlights of the evening included: "Once on this Island," a tropical / Broadway - style number; Latin music based "Evita,"; "Thirty Something," featuring music from the television soundtrack; Dixieland style "New Orleans,"; "Ball of Confusion," based on a "Temptations" song; "Till Death Do Us Part," a story of alcohol destroying a marriage; and "All That Jazz," featuring music by Bob Fosse.

The Clarion University student performers were: Melanie Hartwig, Joleen Barnes, Leigh Musser, Brian Bazala, Dana Machen, Jennie Wise, Melissa Clements, Cassie Decker, Jenny Field, Kimberly Goodge, Deanne Hoen, Monica Schmader, Jodi Smith, Rachel Smith, Cathy Meholic, Kelly Meyers, Deena Barnett, Karen Blanco, Patti Consolo, Sandra DiMenno, Jennifer Jannos, Michael Moats, Jen Pilarski, Stacy Schardong, Sue Slat, Shannon Sullivan, Laurie Venturella, Patty Helterbrand, Maria Kappel, Robin Adamson, Brenda Rinaldi, Scott Burden, Rene Vollmer, Camilla Foreman, Shanisha Reddick, Monique Smith, Lori Denne, Dana Ed, Jennifer Ewing, Sonya Hanzes, La Sean Henderson, Denise Lynch, Colleen Miller, Michelle Cover, Tracy Bertges, Stuart Way, Heidi Sheldon, Laurel Allison, Lori Watchel, Maria Sleigh, Jill Jenkins, Kesha and Tondelaya Carey, Susan Long, Monica Held, Loretta Janke, Nicloe Kresho, Marilyn Murnyack, Holly Sena, Mark Boyd, Ann Gustafson, Jay Parsons, Holly Shelly, Crissy Statuto, Brian Thomas, Jodi Bailey, Traci McDonald, Cindy Hippenstill, and Liz Melnick.

Clarion Football, under the direction of 9 year head coach Gene Sobolewski, completed the 1991 football season with their theme of "looking to turn the corner" - and it worked! The Eagles had a 5-5 over-all record; their first non-losing season in three years. They ranked 2-4 in the competitive PSAC-West.

The Eagles seized the day throughout the season as they opened 1991 with a 24-21 win over Fairmont State. Two of Clarion's additional victories were against playoff teams. Westminster went down in a 28-14 decision as the Eagles won their second in a row. Even after the frustrating 27-26 breakdown to Lock Haven in mid season, the team, "looking to turn the corner", came back with a smashing 34-19 upset to nationally ranked Shippensburg. Eagles Football is on the road to recovery!

Clarion's offense, led by junior quarterback Tim Myers, ranked first in passing offense in PSAC-West and third in PSAC overall. The hard hitting defense also increased their productivity with each game of the season. Among the supporting cast this year was senior defensive back Dave Burmeister. Burmeister, rewarded for his outstanding performance against Shippensburg, was named football Gazette and USA Today NCAA Division II Defensive "Player of the Week" and PSAC-West "Player of the Week" as well as being named to the District 2 Academic All-American team. Three additional Eagle players, senior, Art Walker and sophmores, Damon Mazoff and Tim Brown, were selected to the Division II All-American Team and were named to first team PSAC-Western Division All-Conference Football Team. Keep up the sensational honors Eagles.

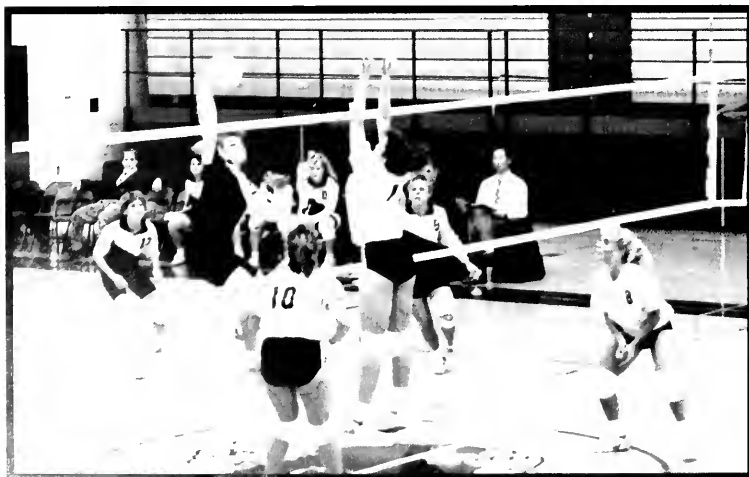

1992 holds promise for a dynamic football season as the team hopefully picks up their progress where they left off. Clarion will open the 1992 schedule against Youngstown State.

The Clarion Women's Volleyball team knew they had a challenge ahead of them this season and they faced it head on. Along with the outstanding end to the 1990 season came the graduation of seven seniors from the team. Second year head coach, Sue Flaherty, took this issue in stride as she used the 1991 season to rebuild.

On court, the team led by student co-captains Linda Cunningham, a senior, and junior Wendy Ellenberge, oriented the five new freshmen to college play. The Lady Eagles seized the day by completing the rebuilding season with a 10-17 record.

The main issue this season was not the number of wins and losses but obtaining match experience for the new additions to the team. Also, the Eagle veterans were there to provide that extra boost of confidence and know-how when the going got tough. Next season holds much promise as the Women's Volleyball team continues on its upward climb.

The 1991-92 women's tennis team was led by second year coach Terry Acker. The schedule stretched from September 12 through October 19. The Lady Eagles finished their season with a smashing 13-3 record.

Led by co-captains Lori Berk and Marianne Martin, the team headed to Millersville for the PSAC Women's Tennis Championships October 18-19. With 5 consecutive PSAC Team Titles under hand from 1986-90, the Eagle ladies attempted to secure a sixth. Though they fought to keep their title alive, the team was unsuccessful. Clarion, seized the day, by holding on to place fourth out of 13 teams in the tournament.

This year's Lady Eagles strived hard to reach their goals. "I think our team has improved with every match this season and we're peaking at the right time", commented coach Acker. This years team had only one senior, Lori Berk. With their increasing improvements, the Lady Eagles should be a first-rate contender to regain the PSAC title in 1992.

Under the direction of second year head coach Ron Wisner, the Clarion Men's Cross Country team had a tough season ahead of them. Wisner, knowing the PSAC to be one of the toughest conferences for Cross Country running in the country, wished to better prepare his team for the high quality competition to come. This year, to help improve their PSAC finish, the team's pre-conference schedule was upgraded.

Co-captains, juniors, Mark Kinsh and Chris Singleton led the team in attempting to obtain their objectives of team consistency and an improved ranking at the PSAC Championship. Only one of the teams' five regular season meets was at home. The 1991 year was wrapped up at the PSAC's at Bloomsburg in October. The Golden Eagle men finished 13th out of 14 teams in the PSAC Championship.

Facing tougher competition in the regular season, improving their record within the conference, and maintaining consistency throughout the season were the main objectives for the women's cross country team in the 1991 season. Captain of the women's squad, senior, Nancy Fullerton helped lead the way.

The team opened the season on September 7 at the St. Bonaventure Invitational. Four other regular season meets were held to aid in preparation for the PSAC's on October 26 at Bloomsburg. The Lady Eagles placed 10th out of 14 teams in the PSAC Championship.

Coach Riser expected to see a better finish for Clarion in the PSAC's in the 1991 season compared to last year. That is exactly what these women accomplished. The championship won't be won overnight, but the wheels have been set in motion. The team is on its way to the top.

Let's hear it for our Clarion boys of winter! Once again our Golden Eagle wrestlers expertly seized the day by bringing home for a second consecutive year the PSAC wrestling championship. Finishing 8th in Division I, they closed the season with a 13-5 record.

A fitting finish to his 26th and final season as head coach of Eagle wrestling, Coach Bob Bubbs leaves Clarion with an overall record of 322-121-4. Coach Bubbs, named as PSAC and EWL "Coach of the Year" for 1992, has contributed much to the team. He will be greatly missed! Jack Davis has been named the new head wrestling coach to continue the tradition of the sport here at Clarion.

We also are saying farewell to Kurt Angle who was the Eagle heavyweight and EWL and PSAC "Wrestler of the Year" in 1992. Kurt, a two time national champion despite a late season knee injury in 1990-1991, has a career record to date of 116-10-2. We are PROUD to see an Olympic prospect at little, old Clarion. And yet another accomplishment to list is his appearance in the April 1992 Sports Illustrated issue. Congratulations Kurt and good luck! Here's to another Golden Eagle wrestling season yet to come.

Golden Eagle Men's Basketball opened the 1991-92 season on November 23 with a romping win over Lake Erie College. This was nothing less than a thrilling premonition of the outstanding season to come.

With five returning starters, five additional veterans, and a solid recruiting year, the Clarion hoop team was set to "take the next step." This is precisely what they did. The team, for the first time in four years, saw itself heading into the second half of the season with a .500 record. The energetic tri-captain make-up of sophomores Kwame Morton, Dave Wojciechowski and junior Mark McCarthy kept the team fired up on the court.

Evidenced by the play in the courts and reflections in the team's standings, two Clarion players received awards. Kwame Morton was voted a first team PSAC-West choice and a second team NABC All-American selection. Additionally worthy was freshman Roy Bumoskey who was named PSAC-West "Rookie of the Week" for his astonishing work in the wins over Point Park, Lock Haven, and Shippensburg.

Four year head coach, Ron Righter, held high expectations for his team in the 1991-92 season. The key to the season laid in playing quality half-court defense and spreading the scoring out instead of relying on a few select players. The team performed consistently throughout the season and was rewarded in the end by seizing the day with an incredible 18-9 overall record not to mention the solid 5-7 finish in the tough PSAC-West. That final step looms brightly ahead for these Golden Eagles in the 1992-93 season.

The swimming and diving teams are under the direction of veteran head coach Bill Miller, assistant swim coach Mark Van Dyke, and diving coach Dave Hrovat. Among the long list of swimming and diving accomplishments this year, head coach Bill Miller received the NCAA Division II men's "Coach of the Year" of 1992. Also, for a second straight year diving coach Dave Hrovat was named the NCAA Division II men's "Diving Coach of the Year" of 1992.

The women's swimming and diving successfully seized the day by capturing their 17th PSAC title. It does not stop there because the Golden Eagle ladies went on to take 5th place at the NCAA Division II Nationals.

The men's swimming and diving had equally stunning accomplishments as they seized the day by regaining the men's PSAC title. Splashing on, they next completed a sensational; second place finish at the NCAA Division II Nationals. Congratulations on a successful season. Next year promises to be just as exciting!

Clarion Golden Eagle's baseball started off the 1992 season in sunny, sultry Florida. This seven game southern trip helped prepare the men for the remainder of the season with their intense northern schedule. Led by team captains, seniors, Brad Frazier and Bill Garroway, and juniors, Brett Houy and Andy Workinger, the relatively young team displayed a well balanced squad of veterans and freshmen.

Rich Herman, in his fourth year as head coach of Clarion hardball, stressed that the key to the success of the 1992 season in the competitive PSAC-West hinged on the number of away wins. The team, backed by solid defensive play and considerable team speed, also presented a capital pitching staff. Despite the considerable number of reschedules due to rain and cold early in the season, the Eagle's men didn't falter.

Though the team didn't reach their goal of finishing among the top two in the PSAC-West, they seized the day with a season finale of 12-17. Their ambition doesn't stop there; 1993 is already in their sights.

Women's Golden Eagle Softball headed into the 1992 season with a fairly young team make-up. For a second year the ladies prepared and started their season in the Florida sunshine, quite a contrast to our chilling Clarion winter weather. This spring training ran from February 28 thru March 8. Diana Schwartz, head coach of Eagle's softball for a second consecutive year, stressed the need for player experience and team confidence.

The nucleus of the team was the tri-captain set-up of seniors Mary Jo Gorjak, Jane Hogue, and Laurie Neidig. The veterans proved their talent as they rose to the challenge of leading an inexperienced team even in times of defeat. The team seized the day with a 8-16 record to wrap up their season. With the increased playing experience and continued building we can look forward to a competitive ball club to come in 1993.

Congratulations is in order! The Clarion Women's Basketball team completed the 1991-92 season with the most wins ever in team history. Many team and single records were also surpassed, including those set just last season. Thanks to a second consecutive 20-plus winning season, these Golden Eagle ladies have established themselves as a national power.

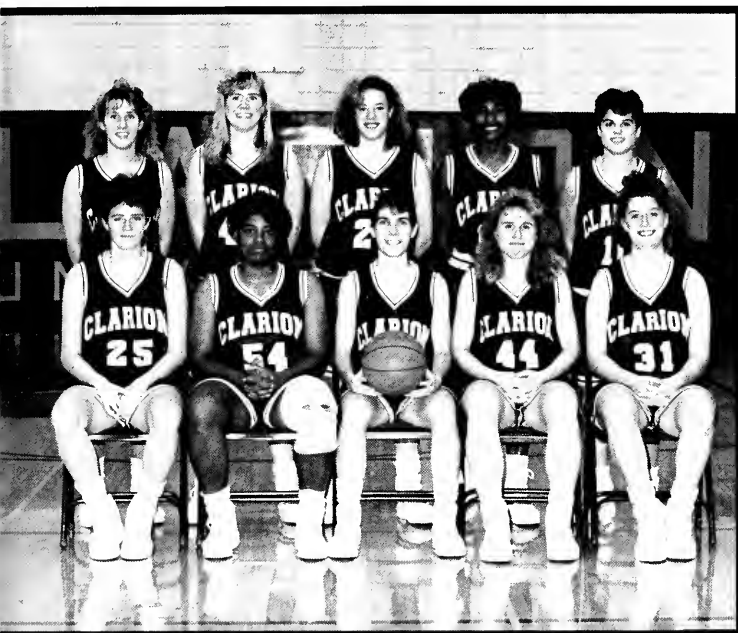

Hard work and sheer talent paid off as the team, led on the court by their three captains junior Leatha Dudeck, and seniors Shelly Respecki and Jeannine Tyler, seized the day with a smashing 25-4 finale, breaking last years 24 win wrap-up. The season started off November at home with the "Clarion Classic" tournament. As the season drew to a close, Clarion saw its lady hoop team clinch the PSAC-West title for the second straight year. This 14th annual PSAC Women's Basketball Championship was held at Tippen Gymnasium. The season did not end there though, as theses ladies earned a journey to the NCAA Division II playoffs ranked 11th.

Clarion's commendable basketball accomplishments did not go unnoticed. Recipient of the "Coach of the Year" for a second consecutive year was third year head coach Margaret "Gie" Parsons. Parsons contributed their success to their strong bench which enabled the team to utilize all 10 players on the roster. Freshman Carlita Jones was named PSAC Western Division "Rookie of the Week" for her key performance in games against Gannon, Slippery Rock, and Indiana. She put the icing on the cake at the seasons end when she received the PSAC-West "rookie of the Year" for the 1991-92 season. Additionally, veteran Leatha Dudeck was selected on the District II Kodak All-American team with an honorable mention.

The Lady Eagle's basketball team is prepared to keep the adrenaline pumping into the 1992-93 season. The NCAA Division II title is within reach.

Fore! Yes, despite the cool, rainy spring Clarion had this year, the Golden Eagle's Golf team was out on the fairways. The golfers seized the day by ending the season with a 4th place finish at the 1992 PSAC golf tournament. Tee off was at Treasure Lake Resort in Dubois this year.

Under the direction of head coach Bob Carlson, Clarion emerged with two all-conference honors. Joel Young and Todd Corbeil were the recipients. Both are sophomores and each earned first team honors. Here's to the expert coaching and talented golfers headed into a new season.

Construction on the new James Gemmell Student Complex has affected everyone on campus in one way or another. However, time spent tracking down locations to hold meetings and events will be well worth the wait. There will be additional meeting and conference rooms, restaurant, fitness center, and racketball courts. The student organization offices will also be located in the complex. The 1992 Sequelle, volume 83, was created for the students of Clarion University of Pennsylvania, by students. Without the hard work of editors and staff members the creation of this traditional historical document would not be possible.

Special gratitude goes to Larry Intihar, our publishing representative, from Jostens Printing and Publishing, and Jim Rainey, our representative from Davor Photography. Photographer Timothy Valecce of Davor Photography, took the senior portraits. Davor also took the Picture Yourself photographs and some campus candid. They also process all of our photographs used in the Sequelle.

The Sequelle also thanks our advisors, Inez Baker and Pat Marini; Hal Wassink and Lee Krull. Finally, we would like to thank Student Senate for all of their hard work over the year for all organizations on campus. If not for them the Sequelle would not be in existence.

Thank you to everyone involved with the Sequelle, for your time, dedication and help.

The cover was designed by the Sequelle staff and has the following specifications: laminated black, gold embossing, and marble ghost colors. The type style is Times Roman regular and italicized.

Throughout the book 9 point type was used for picture captions, 12 point type was used for body copy, 36 point type was used for headlines, and 12 and 10 point type was used for folio tabs.

The 1992 Sequelle was prepared on MacIntosh computer, using Pagemaker program and Yeartech templates.
